

In Loving Memory of Stratton Stubbs

August 5, 1996-August 16, 2004

Stratton has finished his work that God sent him to do, which was to teach those of us who met him what true unconditional love is all about. God allowed this small little angel to come and be a part of our world so that others could see what God has in store for us if we live in his word and do the right thing. Stratton touched many lives with his open arms for a hug, a large smile on his face, and a sparkle in his eyes. He always had a smile.
